

Scrap turns energy saver!

Team from IEL Kalinganagar DG plant, observed that the cooling was sub-par in the CRP room due to a design fault. There were gaps below the UPS and UPS power distributing panels, causing an increase in the AC load.

The team covered these gaps using old insulation cladding sheets, resulting in the improvement of AC cooling.

It also prevents the accumulation of dust and provides vermin protection.

Benefits:

1. Utilization of old scraps.
2. Electricity saving (Total 24MW energy saved per Year).
