COVER STORY

Rise against Hunger!

Hunger is a condition in which a person, for a sustained period, is unable to eat sufficient food to meet basic nutritional needs. The world's poor people confront hunger issues. They struggle for food. Though their energy requirement is not much, factors like scarcity of food, rising energy prices restrict their access to basic food. High net worth or people from affluent classes consumer and require many more resources than poor people, thus leading increasing scarcity of food and resources for poor people.

Greenolution team asked employees to share their stories to raise awareness on issues like hunger and food wastage.

1. Mr. Xavier Johny

Since my childhood, an old lady with a graceful face used to come to our home as a domestic help. She was a woman of great self-respect. Despite her weakness she tried to do the chores neatly and sincerely. I had heard her saying to my mother about her daughter-in-law denying her food and other facilities. My mother used to give her sufficient food so that she can fill her stomach with the day's food before leaving our place. All of us had a special care and affection for her and we called her 'Grandma'.

Two years ago, she had met with an accident and stopped coming to our home. She often made friendly visits. One evening she came to our home while I was alone

Her face looked pale while she managed a smile. She looked in a hurry but I asked her to have a tea with me. I made tea of her taste with more milk and sugar. I offered the tea to her with boiled Tapioca and fish curry. She ate it quite quickly. I requested her to have more which she readily accepted. She made a tight hand shake on my right hand and whispered "Only good things will happen to you"; in a broken voice but with a GRACEFUL SMILE.

2. Mr. Dadachanji R V

There is SNEH SADAN IN ANDHERI EAST mahakali caves rd where 22 children (girls) are given shelter and their caretakers look AFTER them. Children from 3 years are kept and are raised till they grow up to be independent.

Every birthday in our family or any festival, we buy some eatables for them

Sometimes, we also provide them with mats for sleeping or any other essential articles which may require as part of their daily needs. When they smile happily at us, we feel that we have done something fruitful with our lives.

I think the extra canteen meals can be sent to such ashrams so that these children can enjoy the meal.

3. Ms. Roopali Poojari

On the occasion of Ganesh Chaturthi & Gauri Pujan festival, we offer one time lunch to poor people. On my daughter's birthday, we distributed snacks to 20 orphan kids and also 60 kids which learn ved at "Girija Welfare Association" situated at Panvel.. It feels good to serve society.

4. Ms. Nair Bhagyalakshmi

I travel by train every day. At GTB station, I used to see this old lady begging for alms....I then used to buy her breakfast from the hawkers at least once a week. Now, there are three more of them begging for alms. I continue to do my duty to help them. I believe that since I don't need to take a cab to office thanks to the shuttle service so I can very well use that money to this cause...Also, I think more than helping them out with money it's better to feed them.

5. Mr. Navin Kumar Mahato

Whenever I have food at home or canteen, restaurant or in any party, I consume only as much as I can eat.

5. Mr. Vinayak P Tamase

On occasion of Diwali festival, we distributed Faral(festive Maharashtrian sweets) and other sweets to Balogram Anathalaya at Lonavala
